Subject: I was told to send???

Hi! I'm writing this e-mail because I was told to do so by a company that I subscribe to receive newsletters.

On this newsletter they write about the Microsoft settlement and how it affects this company and this is what they wrote, without mentioning the name of the company. (responding to the proposed settlement, pointing out that the settlement could simply introduce Microsoft to a market where they could further extend their monopoly). Well I'm not a software savvy nor a business major and I do not have anything against this company or Microsoft or for that matter any other dot com company but this to me sounds like a case of jealousy, why can this company and all the other companies on this settlement get together and offer the same or maybe even better software than the one offered by Microsoft

Sincerely: anonymous
